If you possess any of the products listed above with a production date prior to January 18th, 2010, please pull it off of your shelves and segregate it for pick up by a Reynaldo's employee. Our customer service department will contact you shortly to gather information on your quantities, pick up schedule and replenishment of new product.

Reynaldo's prides itself on quality and food safety and going forward we will continue doing everything within our capabilities to ensure the highest quality and food safety in all of our products.

Thank you for your understanding and continued support.
